City of Jersey City Offers Free Line Dancing Classes for Senior Citizens

JERSEY CITY –Mayor Jerramiah T. Healy and the Division of Senior Affairs are offering FREE Line Dancing Classes for senior citizens every Wednesday at the Joseph Connors Senior Center at 28 Paterson Street from 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Classes are still being held each week at the Maureen Collier Senior Center at 335 Bergen Avenue on Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

“The lives of senior citizens are of great importance to our city,” said Mayor Healy. “Ensuring their health and safety is a priority, but providing them with enjoyable activities is equally important.”

The classes, which are free to all Seniors, are led by instructor E. Talley, II, whose experience in dancing and the performance arts has been extensive. He performs in a wide array of musical theatre productions, television shows, independent and feature films, concerts and dance presentations throughout the east coast.

The Joseph Connors Senior Center is operated as part of the City's Senior Program and is open weekdays from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The center offers lunch, recreational, educational, and cultural activities to Jersey City senior residents (60+ years of age).

For a schedule of activities, please call the Joseph Connors Senior Center directly at 201-420-8249 or for more information, please call the Division of Senior Affairs at 201-547-4361.

All media inquiries should be directed to Jennifer Morrill, Press Secretary to Mayor Jerramiah T. Healy at 201-547-4836 or 201-376-0699.//////
