Mayor Healy Appoints Four New Judges to Municipal Court

JERSEY CITY – Mayor Jerramiah T. Healy appointed four new judges to the Jersey City Municipal Court who were sworn in today to three year terms at Jersey City Municipal Court, 365 Summit Avenue.

“These men and women are all excellent attorneys with great credentials,” Mayor Healy said. “They live in Jersey City and have committed themselves to work for the people of Jersey City.”

The four new judges are Radames Velazquez, Margaret Marley, Frank Babcock, and Wilson Campbell. All four appointees have been practicing law for at least the past five years.

The appointments were passed unanimously by an 8-0 vote by the City Council at their meeting Wednesday.

All media inquiries should be directed to Jennifer Morrill, Press Secretary to Mayor Jerramiah T. Healy at 201-547-4836 or 201-686-7244.///
